BUILD BACK dream forward

The past year has tested pretty much everything we are as human beings, as a country, and as a local community.

The Community Foundation therefore spent considerable time during 2020 in response mode, helping the region address not one, but two crises - the COVID-19 pandemic and racial injustice.

In mid-March, we launched the COVID-19 Response Fund for Northern Virginia. In a few short weeks it attracted $2.1 million which we awarded in 5 rounds of grants to local nonprofits that were effectively mitigating the worst impacts of the virus on our neediest neighbors.

Data from local health districts in Northern Virginia showed that COVID-19 was having a large and disproportionate impact on people of color in the region. LatinX, Hispanic and Black owned businesses were particularly suffering. When the senseless murder of George Floyd occurred in May, it reverberated across our country and triggered a local and national recognition of the structural and systemic racism that had produced these inequities.

In response, the Community Foundation launched Build Back - Dream Forward, an event and community investment initiative that helps address the impacts of the virus on communities of color in the region.

From moment to moment, these crises felt both urgent and discouraging, heartbreaking and hopeful. But in the thick of it all, we discovered new purpose in the words of an old mission statement.

We exist to grow philanthropy that helps meet critical need.

We exist to find innovative solutions to complex social issues.

We exist to help lead and convene the community.

We strive to help build a community that works for everyone.

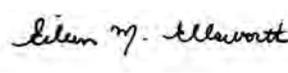

In both ordinary and extraordinary times, these are meaningful goals that are worthy of all we have to give.

ABOUT THE COMMUNITY FOUNDATION FOR NORTHERN VIRGINIA

The Community Foundation for Northern Virginia grows philanthropy to respond to need, seed innovation and lead and convene the community. Comprised of donor advised funds, permanent funds, giving circles, and other charitable endowments, the Community Foundation works to address some of the most complex civic and social challenges we face through community dialogue and strategic investments.

OUR VALUES

The Community Foundation for Northern Virginia is committed to building a community that works for everyone.

Our community is stronger when all people are respected, welcomed, and invited to share their assets and contributions in community building.

We work to bring about a more equitable and inclusive prosperity that marries our economic strength with the full breadth of our diverse community.

We are wholeheartedly devoted to our neediest neighbors and most vulnerable and marginalized populations, and work tirelessly to better meet their needs.

Now, more than ever, we see many opportunities for local action.

We do nothing alone at the Community Foundation. Please join us in grant making, dialogue, outreach and advocacy.

COVID-19 AND OUR REGION'S RESPONSE

In response to the global pandemic and its disproportionate impacts on our most vulnerable neighbors, the Community Foundation launched the COVID-19 Response Fund for Northern Virginia on March 13, 2020.

Seeded with $100,000 in funding from the Community Foundation's unrestricted assets, the Fund attracted over $2.1 million in contributions from local individuals, foundations, corporations, and corporate foundations. As donations quickly poured in, it became clear that the Fund would fill a critical gap between the advent of the economic impact of the virus in mid-March and the capacity of government to respond. It has been a remarkable, unprecedented outpouring of caring and support.

Local health and economic data disaggregated by race and ethnicity clearly evidence that COVID-19 and its fallout have had devastating, disproportionate impacts on people of color in Northern Virginia. Our Community Foundation, as always, remains committed to building a community that works for everyone. Today, that means providing support that strengthens and empowers those who are fighting on the front lines of not one, but two crises – COVID-19 and racial injustice.

ACHIEVING EQUITY & JUSTICE

The opportunity to remove obstacles and invest in change.

The Community Foundation for Northern Virginia works to bring about a more equitable and inclusive prosperity that marries our economic strength with the full breadth of our diverse community.

Data from local health districts in Northern Virginia show that COVID-19 has had a large and disproportionate impact on people of color in the region. Black, LatinX and Hispanic residents and business owners are particularly suffering. In addition, events surrounding the murder of George Floyd and other African Americans have brought into focus the inequitable civic and social systems that preexisted COVID-19.

BUILD BACK – DREAM FORWARD

The Next Phase of the Community Foundation for Northern Virginia’s COVID-19 Response

It is not only what the virus has caused. It’s what the virus has revealed.

That is why the Community Foundation launched Build Back – Dream Forward, a post-COVID-19 growth and community investment initiative. Its purpose is to achieve economic mobility, promote racial justice and equity, and catalyze more inclusive systems of economic growth in Northern Virginia, particularly in local communities of color who have been disproportionately impacted by the virus.

Our hope is that the initiative will help aspiring, hardworking entrepreneurs and small business owners from local Latinx, Hispanic, African American, Korean, Ethiopian, El Salvadorian, Vietnamese, and other communities obtain the credit, resources, services and investments they need to thrive, both through the COVID-19 pandemic and beyond.

“For too long, racial trauma was the elephant in the room that we did not discuss as a society. Today, that conversation is starting to change. We’re honored to be supported by the Community Foundation for Northern Virginia at this critical time to help communities of color find healthy ways to discuss generational trauma.”

– Dr. Alfie Breland-Noble, Founder of the AAKOMA Project & COVID-19 Response Fund Grantee

COUNT THE REGION

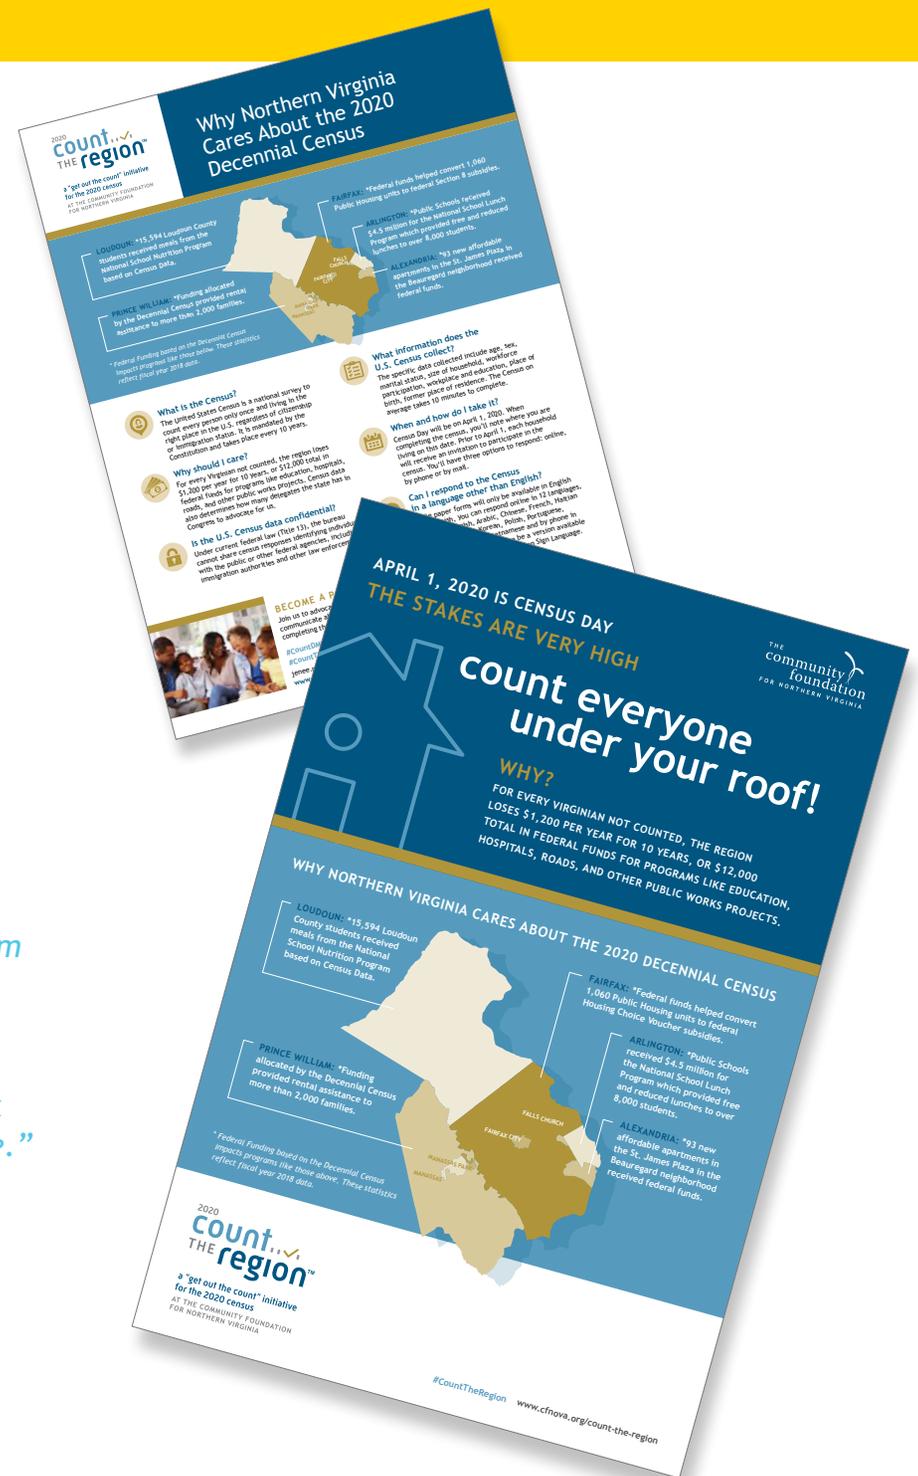

The Community Foundation's Count the Region initiative was established to get out the count for the 2020 Census. The effort galvanized local action and helped ensure that Northern Virginia receives its fair share of federal dollars over the course of the next 10 years.

The initiative stood up a Northern Virginia Complete Count Committee to help engage key government, social, and private sector leaders in these efforts. We convened leaders of each of the jurisdictional complete count committees to help them communicate, coordinate, and share information. The endeavor brought heightened awareness to the importance of self-responding to the census through its #NOVACOUNTS campaign.

Each and every local jurisdiction across our region succeeded in achieving higher self-response rates than in 2010 despite the pandemic and the many challenges it created.

“Our region did very well, and Count the Region played an early, important role in helping to build awareness and sustain momentum for a successful count. The Northern Virginia Complete Count Committee that we assembled was comprised of many influential community leaders who leveraged their extensive networks to achieve unprecedented self-response rates. The region’s hard work and success around the 2020 Census is truly something to celebrate.”

— Eileen Ellsworth, President and CEO

INSIGHT REGION™

Insight Region™ is a new center for community research at the Community Foundation for Northern Virginia that analyzes local trends, convenes civic leaders, and promotes civic and social action.

Through an online dashboard, quarterly briefings and community convenings, Insight Region will provide reliable local data that will enable the community to better advocate for itself and its needs.

In 2021, Insight Region™ will focus on understanding and promoting Inclusive

Prosperity – increasing self-sufficiency, expanding economic opportunity, and forging pathways for long-term movements out of poverty for all of Northern Virginia’s residents.

Elizabeth Hughes serves as the new Senior Director of Insight Region™. Elizabeth has spent her career at the intersection of research and policy, helping decisionmakers sort through the noise and find relevant, actionable insights to help guide operations, maximize productivity, and achieve strategic goals.

“Through the collection and curation of relevant, reliable, and actionable data, Insight Region™ will allow the community to explore the unique strengths and needs that define this region and to understand how investments in programs and services can make Northern Virginia more resilient, healthy, and equitable.”

- Elizabeth Hughes, Senior Director of Insight Region™ at the Community Foundation

Insight Region™ is made possible by a generous contribution from Paul and Julia Leslie and the J.O.Y. Charitable Fund at the Community Foundation for Northern Virginia

PERMANENT FUND FOR NORTHERN VIRGINIA

An Endowment to Shape the Region's Future

The Permanent Fund for Northern Virginia makes possible virtually all of the Community Foundation's discretionary grantmaking to local nonprofits. Comprised of many separate endowments established by local donors for local giving, the Permanent Fund is living proof of our commitment to build a community that works for everyone, both now and into the future. Over the course of the year the Permanent Fund continued to grow and expand into a variety of new fields of interest.

Today, the Permanent Fund stands at more than $16 million (including gifts that have been promised from bequests and trusts) and has been built by forward thinking local individuals wishing to leave lasting legacies of giving in the community we call home.

Shape of the Region

The Economic Case for Inclusivity / March 12, 2020

The Community Foundation's 2020 Shape of the Region conference was held virtually on Thursday, March 12, 2020 for more than 300 guests. The event served as a platform to present a new report on the large and growing impact of recent immigrants in Northern Virginia: One Region – Welcoming New Americans to Northern Virginia. The report was written by the New American Economy and commissioned in partnership with Northern Virginia Regional Commission.

Presenting Partners:

The Asian American Chamber of Commerce, George Mason University, Northern Virginia Black Chamber of Commerce, Northern Virginia Chamber of Commerce, Northern Virginia Community College, Northern Virginia Regional Commission, Northern Virginia Technology Council, NOVA Hispanic American Chamber of Commerce and Virginia Hispanic Chamber of Commerce.

2019 COMMUNITY LEADERSHIP AWARD

Presented to Major General Carl H. McNair, Jr. (RET)

The Community Foundation's Community Leadership Award is presented annually for outstanding community service and dedication to improving the quality of life for all Northern Virginians. This year, the award went to Major General Carl H. McNair, Jr. (RET).

MG McNair served the U.S. Army for over 32 years during which he served as the first Chief of Army Aviation amongst other positions and achievements. He served overseas in Vietnam, Korea and Taiwan with combat service spanning six campaigns alone during the active conflict in the Republic of Vietnam, 1967-69.

For his military service, MG McNair received many decorations, including two awards of the Distinguished Service Medal, the Army’s highest peacetime award, three awards of the Legion of Merit, and many other honors and awards both at home and abroad. He remains actively affiliated with numerous professional organizations associated with the United States Army.

Since his 1987 retirement from the Army, he has served over three decades in positions of increasing responsibility in the private sector, successfully building and growing businesses that support local and federal governments in the defense industry.

Active in community affairs throughout the National Capital Region, he serves on multiple non-profit Boards and Foundations, including the Northern Virginia Chamber of Commerce; Easter Seals of the Greater Washington Area; the Army Historical Foundation and the Army Aviation Museum Foundation; the West Point Society of DC; and the Army Aviation Association of America. The U.S. Military Academy named him a Distinguished Graduate of West Point in 2011, an honor accorded fewer than 100 graduates to that date, and in 2015, he was selected as the 89th “Living Legend of Aviation.”

“Having the Caimi-Markis Family Fund has given me the ability to quickly donate money to the charities that I love, including the Community Foundation and its COVID-19 Fund. I also contribute to several organizations that are dear to my heart like the ARC of Loudoun, SAY, and The Loudoun Literacy Council. The ARC works with children and people with disabilities and I have actually seen miracles happen there. SAY helps children who struggle with stuttering find ways to cope and become more confident. Loudoun Literacy also touches home because as an immigrant, learning to read and write English has made all the difference in my life and I want to share this gift with others. I appreciate the Community Foundation because pulling my money together with other like-minded philanthropists helps the money go a lot further and really make a difference to our community.”

John Wolff served on the Community Foundation for Northern Virginia's Board of Directors from 2011 to 2020. He was the chair of the board's Investment Committee, member of the Loudoun Impact Fund giving circle, participated on grant review panels, and sponsored Community Foundation events. He and his wife Lisa have a donor advised fund for grantmaking as well as an endowed, permanent fund with the Community Foundation.

"Lisa and I believe in 'leading by example.' We are humbled by how many individuals and families in our community give in so many ways – money, time, care, and otherwise. Our involvement in the Community Foundation for Northern Virginia comes from our goal/philosophy of making OUR community a better place for ALL and simply giving back. The affiliation with CFNOVA and the wonderful team at the foundation allows our family to accomplish our objectives and goals."
